DETAILED ACTION

Claim Numbering

1. The numbering of claims is not accordance with 37 CFR 1.126, which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claims 5-8 have been renumbered 6-9. Applicant should note that the application originally containing a "claim 5" that was subsequently cancelled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kay taken together with Gianfranco.

The claims stand rejected for the reasons set forth in the last Office Action (mailed 6/3/05).

4. Claims 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kay taken together with Gianfranco and Shirbroun.

Kay further discloses the treatment of soybean material that has been roasted but is silent regarding specifically how this is achieved (e.g. col. 3, line 18).

Art Unit: 1761

The claims further call for said soybeans to have been roasted and that said roasting occurred at a particular temperature and time period. Shirbroun discloses the preparation of a soybean beverage using roasted soybeans wherein said soybeans have been roasted at 425 F, for example, and for a time "depending upon the size of the batch..." (col. 4, lines 43-54). Determination of the particular time of roasting would have been well within the purview of one skilled in the art as a matter of preference depending on, for example, the particular amount of soybean roasted as set forth by Shirbroun. Furthermore, it would have been obvious to have employed the roasting temperature used by Shirbroun as an art recognized roasting temperature for soybean.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 10/3/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that the amended claims incorporate unexpected results of the instant invention. However, such unexpected results are not seen in view of the rejections as set forth above.

All other arguments have been addressed in view of the rejection as set forth above.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37

CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
